

IVYEES “EVERYTHING HONEY”

Ivyees “Everything Honey” is a fully integrated honey producer. What sets us apart is the rich tropical pollinations of mango, papaya, coconut, tropical berries, sweet & sour sops, hibiscus, sorrel and other wild flowers. Our bees are wild and free. They forage in high the high mountainous Parishes to produces our distinctive flavor varieties of all-natural, raw, organic honey.

Hibiscus & Sorrel

The hibiscus plants blossoms in abundance on the Island. Over the past several years scientific interest in hibiscus has grown due the fact that studies have shown that regular use of hibiscus tea is great for blood pressure and cholesterol maintenance. Our bees pollinate these two flowers and supply us with a light, refreshing, and nutrient rich honey. The honey has a warm reddish color and blends well with any of your favorite beverages.

Logwood honey

The Logwood honey is our company's signature honey. Logwood honey is exclusive to Jamaica, Belize, Grenada and Brazil. The pollination produces honey that is outstanding, uncommon, distinctive and delicious. British brought the Logwood tree to Jamaica, where its sap was used for dyeing textile and hair. Flowers from the logwood are plentiful and sweet. The Logwood is even thought to have medicinal properties. Tea made from the tree contains triple anti-oxidants and is currently being tested as a possible cure for certain types of cancer.
